NECROLOGY OF THE WORLD.

A. D., 1854.

Names of the Distinguished Dead in All Parts of the Globe.

JANUARY.

SUNDAY, 1 .- It was found that the Mexican empire lost the following distinguished generals during the year of 1853, viz:—Major Generals Anastasio Bustamente, Jose Maria Tornel, Jose Joaquia de Herrera, and Manuel Maria Lombardini; Brigader Generals Ventura Mora, Manuel Micheltorena, Ignacio Inclan, Fernando Franco, Manuel Maria Villada, Nicolas Encizo, Jose Staboli, Pedro Maria Anayo, Nicomedes del Callejo, Rafael Canalizo, Rafael Vasquez, Juan Dorirates.

2.—The Duchess de Larochefoucault, in Paris, aged

2 years ... Lord Hamilton Chickester, of Belfast, Ireand, at Malta.

4 -William Conventam Plunkett, Lord Plunkett, ex-Lord Chancellor of Ireland, at Old Connaught Bray, aged 90 years. He was the last of the great Irish orators. Having filled successively the offices of Selicitor and Attorney General in Ireland, he was advanced to the peerage of the United Kingdom, in June, 1827, upon his appointment to the Chief Justiceship of the Court of Common Pleas. He became Lord Chanceller of Ireland in 1830, and held the office for several years.

5.—John Guenter, a native of Germany, in South Boston, U.S., aged 98 years. He was one of the conscripts of the Rhire, and served under Bonaparte for thirtsen years, and took a most active part in the Peninsular He was present and fought in the memorable battles of Austerlitz, Wagram and Marengo...Mr. Charles Barber, President and oldest member of the Academy of Fine Arts, in Liverpool, (Eng.,) suddenly, in that town....The Viscountess de Cambrousse, widow of the famous French general, at Nautes, at an advanced age.... M. Pierre Didot, one of the oldest members of the French press, in Paris, aged 93 years..... At his residence, Hills Cottage, Peel road, Douglas, Isle of Man, aged 73, John Meore, of the Hills. The deceased was the oldest member of the House of Keys, having been appointed member of the House of Keys, having been appointed on the 23d of September, 1807. He was selected aspeaker in 1851, on the resignation of Lieutenant Colonel Goldie Taubman....At midnight, Command-er James Cooper, of the United States Navy, at Haddonfield, New Jersey, aged 93 years. He was the last survivor of "Lee's Legion," so famous in the War of the Revolution; and Captain C. was a participant in many scenes during that struggle. He was thoroughly conversant with the movements of the British army in and around Philadelphia at that eventful period, having entered Lee's Legion before he was eighteen years and continued with that valorous little band a and continued with that valorous little ball its hardships, perils and enterprises up to of peace in 1783.

6.—News was received by the Canada, pool, that the Marchioness of Wellesley died December last, at Hampton Court palace, En was a daughter of the late Richard Caton, of and, and grand-daughter of Charles Carroll, of Crollton, the signers of the Declaration of Independence. One of Lady Wellesley's sisters is Mrs. McTavish; another, Duchess of Leeds; and another, the Dowager Lady Stafford. Lady Wellesley's first husband was Robert Patterson, Esq. In 1825 she married the late Lord Wellesley, eldest brother of the Duke of Wellington. Her ladyahip was for many years lady of the bedchamber to Queen Adelaide. The sister-in-law of lady Wellesley married Jerome Bonaparte, and her son is, of coarse, full cousin to the Emperor of France.... Charles Del Vecchio, the oldest Italian resident in New York, in that city. He was born in the parish of Moltrasie, province Como. Lombardy, on June 2d, 1787. He left Italy in his twelfth year, and went to Dublin, Ireland, where he remained in business with his brother James for seven years. He came to New York in 1804, where he continued in business until shortly before his death.... The philologist, Mitscherlich, the Nestor of the German schools, at Gottingen, in the 94th year of his age. Dr. Mitscherlich was uncle of the famous chemist of the

Dr. Mitscherlich was uncle of the famous chemist of the same name.

8th.—The new-born Princess of Spain, at the royal palace, Madrid, aged two and a half days..., Major General Taylor, C. B., beputy Governor of the Royal Military College, Sandhurst, (Eng.), and Colonel of the 17th Lancers.... William Carr Benesford, Viscount Beresford, and Baron of Dungarven, a most eminent British General, at his seat, Begebury Park, Kent, Eng'and. William Carr Benesford, who was a natural son of the first marquis of Waterford, commenced his distinguished military career in 1755, when he was appointed an ensign of the 6th Foot. His first active service was in 1793, when, as captain of the 69th, he disembarked with the troops that took possession of Toulon, and was generally engaged in the attacks that took place until its final exacuation, when he went to Corsica, and was present at the attack and siege of St. Fiorenza, Bastia, and Calvi. In 1799, when Lieutenant Colonel of the 88th, he sailed for the East Indies, and from thence by the Red Sea to Egypt, acress the Desert, in command of a brigade of Sir David Baird's army. He remained in Egypt till its evacuation, as commandant of Alexandria. After some energetic services against the Irish rebels, Col. Beresford, in 1806, proceeded to the Cape, and shared in the conquest of that colony. From thence he was sent, in command of a small force, to seize Buenos Ayres. This was accomplished; but after success in the open field against the enemy he was eventually obliged to surrender, after three days desperate and destructive resistance in the town. The force under Col. Beresford amounted to 1,200, that of the enemy to between 10,000 and 12,000. After being prisoners for six months he escaped to England, where he had but a short time arrived (this was in 1807) when he was appointed colonel of the 88th, or Connaught Rangers, and was shortly afterwards sent in command of an expedition against Madeira. From Madeira he went to the Peninsula, where he arrived a few days after the being hi ecorations. 9th,—The Earl of Portsmouth, at his seat, Andover, quently received the dignities of Duke of Elvas, Marquis of Campo-Major and Count Trancose in Portugal, that of Viscount Beresford in his own country, and several decorations.

9th.—The Earl of Portsmouth, at his seat, Andever, (Eng.), aged 72 years.... Jonathan Morgan, a soldier of the Revolution, in Newark, N. J., aged 92 years.

10th.—Col. Thomas Hardyside Perkins, of the Massachusetts Volunteer Militia at Brookline, (Mass.,) aged 89 years. Mr. Perkins was, perhaps, the only surviving citizen of Boston who witnessed the massacre in King street, on the 5th of March, 1770. He saw the dead body of one of the victims, and the blood Protein in the guitter. Seventy-five years afterwards he said the remembrance was as clear as if the event had happened only the day before... Daniel Johnson, a soldier of the revolution, in Coplah county, (Miss.), aged 102 years.

11.—In England, Rear-Amirial Gordon Thomas Falcon. He was midshipman of the Venerable, 74, under Duncan, at Camperdown; Heutenant of the Leopard, 50, at the surrender of the United States frigate Chesapeake, in 1800 acquisition, of 36 gens and 489 men. on the 20th of January, 1816... Madame Herbert, wife of the heavy of the feel of the revolution, in Capital Morgan and 181 men, and captured, after a furious action of Maderia, by the American frigate Constitution, of 36 gens and 489 men. on the 20th of January, 1816... Madame Herbert, wife of the heavy of the feel of France, under Jouis Philippe, in Paris... Colonel Godirey, Postunssier General of the Marritis, Indian Cesa; of the four parts of the four related citizens who had had been constant fresidents and variety of the Hamport of the Fouriety, Postuns and 1919 years.

18.—Marritis of the four parts of the fo

Gregory Willen, Esq., of the Irish Emigrant Society of New York, aged Ty years..., Jacob Albert, a venerable citizen of Baltimers, in that city. His estate was valued at two millions of dollars... The Marquis of London. He entered the English army as English Charles Stewart, in 1794, and served and was wounded in the expedition to Holland, distinguished himself greatly during the whole Posinisular war, where we find his name with approval at Talavera, Busaco, Fuentes d'Anor, Eadajos, and Corunna, and was especially charged with the supervision of King Bernadotie when that monarch was wavering in his desertion of Napoleon. Lord Londonderry was esteemed in private life, but did not shine much as a statesman.

6.—P. Moriarty, of Kilkenny, Ireland, aged 109 years.

7.—The Count Thibeaudeau, member of the Senate of France, in Paris, at an advanced age. He was the last surviving member of the Convention who voted for the death of Louis XVI. On the second restoration of the Bourbons he was banished as a regicide. He resided in Beigium and Germany, the revolution of 1830 enabled him to return to Paris. In the time of the Directory he obtained distinction, as he had in the Convention, by his abilities, his political and moral courage, and the general energy of his character. After the coup d'etat of the 18th Bruvanier, Bonaparte, First Consul, appointed him a Councillor of State, in which capacity he lent valuable aid in the formation of the Napoleon Code. Under the imperial government he became Profect, successively, of two departments. Napoleon, when he returned from Elba, found a zealous atherent and honest adviser in the former votary, whom he then created a count, and who served him with unremitting devotion to the end of his career. Béfore the coup d'etat of December he occupied a fourth story; a short time preovius he intended to remove to the fifth, as his landlords—the family of Fouche—had raised his rent beyond his humble means. His goo! luck by the success of Louis Napoleon placed him in better quarters, and the and Public Works, at Rome, in that city, aged 63 years.

10 —W. P. Duval, Governor of Texas, in Washington, aged 70 years. In 1822 he was appointed Governor of Florida by President Monroe, and was re-appointed by Mr. Adams and by Gen. Jackson. In this position he acquitted himself to the entire satisfaction of the administration and the people of the Territories over which he was chosen to superintend... The Earl of Lichfield, in London, aged 59 years. His mame will be long remembered in connection with the celebrated "Litchfield House Compact." The deceased peer was always a strong adherent to the political principles of the whig party, and from 1835 to 1841 he held the office of Postmaster General under Viscount Melbourne's administration. The first Lord Anson was the celebrated admiral, who left no one to inherit his honors, and his estates descended to his nephew, George Adams, Eaq. who thereupon assumed she name of Anson, and his eldest son, father of the deceased peer, was created Viscount Anson and Baron Soberton. The Earl of Lichfield succeeded his father in the viscountey in 1818, and the earldom was conferred in 1831. The penny-post system was introduced during the time Lord Lichfield held the office of Postmaster General.

21.—Major Selah B. Hobbie, Assistant Postmaster General of the United States, in Washington, aged 57 years.

22.—Isabella Campbell, in Groenock, Scotland, aged years. 22,—Isabella Campbell, in Greenock, Scotland, aged years.

22.—Isabella Campbell, in Groenock, Scotland, aged 105 years.

23.—James Raymond, a well-known manager of circuses and menageries, at Carmel, Putnam county, N. Y. He originated the business about thirty years ago, and imported the first elephant ever shown in the United States. Among his property, which is valued at $1,500,000, are the Eroadway theatre and Washington Hotel, in the city of New York.

24.—Benedetto Nogri, the once distinguished professor of singing, at Turin, aged 11 years... At Marseilles, M. Hamaouy, aged 105 years. He was an Egyptian by birth, and went from Cairo with Napoleon.

19.—The Dowager Princess Kohary, great grand daughter of a King of Portugal, at Vienna, aged 22 years. Sheleft a large fortune, but the greater part of it was held in fief, in Hungary, and returned to the State.

20.—Chester Jonnings, the well known proprietor of the City Hotel, New York, now destroyed, in New York, aged 60 years.

20.—Chester Jonnings, the well known proprietor of the City Hotel, New York, now destroyed, in New York, aged 50 years.

22.—M. Alexandre de Bodisco, Russian Minister at Washington, at his residence, deorgetown, aged 70 years. M. Bodisco had held his office for sixteen years, having come to the United States in 1838.... Patrick O'Donohoe, one of the Irish exiles of 1848, in Brooklyn, New York.... James Chesterman, one of the oldest citizens and millionaires of New York, in that city, aged 79 years. Mr. Chesterman was a remarkably active man for one of his advanced years, and was engaged in the active pursuits of menetary life until within two or three days of his decease. He was a native of England, and came to this country in his youth, being by occupation a tailor.

23.—At Santa Domingo, Senor Jose Joaquin Delmonte, at the advanced age of 84 years. Senor Delmonte devoted sixty-two years of his life to the service of his country, during which time he held numerous important and distinguished government offices. The last one he occupied was that of President of the Supreme Court of Justice in the young republic.

25.—Thomas W. Wynan, a post captain of the United States Navy, in Florence.

26.—Anna Maria Jones, a novelist of repute, in London, (Eng.,) in abject poverty.

28.—Lieut-Col. Chads, administrator of the government of the Virgin Islands, at Tortola, aged 61 years.

29.—In Paris, Charlotte A. Thackeray, relict of John Ritchie, late merchant, (Baltimore, United States, and London,) and aunt of William M. Thackeray, author of 'Vanity Fair' and 'Pendennis.''

31.—Count Peyronnet, formerly Minister of Justice under Louis XVIII., and Minister of the Interior under Charles X., at the time of the famous ordinances, aged 70 years, at the estate of Montferrand, near Bourdeaux, during this month.

FEBRUARY.

Wedentschaft A. Scholer Polico, aged 61 years.

WEDNESDAY, 1.—Silvio Pellico, aged 61 years, at Turin Italy. Silvio Pellico was one of the few Italian prose writers who have been extensively known out of Italy. He was born at Saluzzy, Piedmont, in 1789. His father was a manufacturer of silk at Pignerol, and he gave his son an excellent education; and the boy, natur-ally of a studious disposition, improved upon the lessons of his tutors. In 1805 he visited France, where, at Lyons, he resided several years with a married sister. Here he acquired a thorough knowledge of the French language, and read Voltaire, Rousseau, Moliere, and Corille in the vernacular. He became thoroughly acquainted with the French people, and imbibed from the leading spirits of the republican schools the principles which he afterwards so ably advocated. Returning to Italy, he resided some time in Milan, where he became the intimate friend of Sismondi and Monti. He was variously em-ployed—sometimes as a tutor—and soon commenced his career as an author. He published his tragedies " Lacdicea" and "Francesca di Rimini," which raised him high in the literary world. Only a short time after this the celebrated journal Il Conciliatore was commenced. The writers for this journal were Peilico, Sismond, Remagnosi, Gloja and Manzoni. Though professedly o a literary character entirely, its principles were libera and the Austrian government in 1820 suppressed it. The doctrines of H Conclisione had an effect upon the people, and only a few weeks after its suppression insurrections broke out in Fiedmont and Naples. With several others, Fellico was arrested, imprisoned, and in February, 1822, was sentenced to death. This sentence was commuted to fifteen years imprisonment, and in the dungeons of Speilberg, in Moravia, Fellico wrote his greatest work, "My Prisons." Its fame soon spreadover the civilized world, and it was translated into the English and most of the Continental Is nguages. He also wrote several other prose works, and a volume of poems. After eight years of imprisonment Fellico was released, and up to the time of his death he resided at Turio. Here he passed life in classical retirement, occasionally contributing to the literature of his country, but never interfering with its politics. Several of his tragedies have been acted in English with success.

2.—At Copenhagen, (Denmark,) Jacob Peter Mynster, Bishop of Sjelland, nearly 80 years of age, a man for piety, elequence, and zeal, famous throughout the north. He was, according to his ability and views; a shining light, a pillar, and an apostie in the Danish Church. His item were low church and state church, but he was a noble Christian.

8.—Hency Edward Stevens, atage manager of the Remagnosi, Gloja and Manzoni. Though professedly o ileas were low church and state church, but he was a noble Christian.

8.—Henry Edward Stevens, stage manager of the Bowery theatre, N. Y., in this city, aged 40 years.

12.—Senor Herers, ex-fresident of Mexico, in Vera Cruz... At Victoria, (China,) Surgeon Gambill, of G. S. Criz.... At Victoria, (China,) Surgeon Gambill, of G. S. Navy.

17.—General William Paulding, at Tarrytown, West-chester county. N. Y., aged 83 years. During the war with Great Britain. from 1812 to 1815. Mr. Paulding was active in promoting the military spirit of the attrens of New York, and was advanced to the rank of General in the militie. At one time during that period the city and country militia, assembled for the defence of the city (when an attack from a British naval and military force was expected,) amounting to about twenty thousand men... John Martin, the celebrated knullsh painter, in the Isle of Man aged 65 years. The und of the first kept its tone and his hand its power to the last. He was working on pittures Bustrative of the Last Judgment within as few seeks of his death—the Judgment within as few seeks of his death—the Judgment of the state of the seeks of the death. The Judgment within as few seeks of his death—the Judgment of the seeks of his death—the Judgment of the seeks of his death—the Judgment of the man have of starting for the little island to the seeks of the first of the little island to the seeks. India, Coi. Armine Sincoe.

on his last.

Since India, Coi. Araine Sincos,

B. Aldo-de-Cump to Check Victoria, and the her Majoria Ciproca Logia.

Col. Mountain served as Adjutant-General to the army

col. Mountain served as Adjutant-General to the army under Lord Gough in China, and was very severely wounded during that service. On the breaking out of the war in the Punjab he had the command of a brigade, with which he served with so much distinction at the battles of Chillianwallah and Gujerat, that at the termination of the last battle, he was promoted to the command of a division under General Sir Walter Gilbert, and sent by him in immediate pursuit of the enemy.

22—Doctor Thaddeus Clark, father of Grace Greenwood, in New Brighton (Pa.)

23—General Armstrong, of the Washington Union newspaper, of congestion of the brain, in Washington, aged 65 years. General Armstrong earned his milltary titles, to the highest of which he was promoted, in the Florida war of 1836, by active field service. He was a volunteer Lieutenant in the campaigns of 1813-15, and was severely wounded at the battle of Talladega, against the Creek Indians, while gallantly defending a field piece of which his company had charge.

27.—The Abbe Lammennais. in Paris, at an advanced age. During the last few weeks of his illness, and when it was evident that his recovery was hopeless, several of his friends, who had not the same opinions, religious or political, as he had, endeavored to reconcile him teg the church, and exhorted him not to reject the consolations of religion Their efforts were fruitless; he refused to listen to their prayers, and became excited when pressed the more earnestly as his last moment was rapidly approaching.

28.—Rev. Isaac Loper, for forty years a Hebrew minister in Kingston, Jam., in that city.

MARCH.

Wanners 1 —Count Alex. Desgranges, professor of

MARCH.

WEDNESDAY, 1.—Count Alex. Desgranges, professor of the Turkish language in the College of France, in Paris.

2.—Baron Retheen, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Flenipotentiary from the Court of Sweden and Norway, at his residence, 14 Halkin street, Belgrave square, London. His Excellency was minister for seven years, and lived in England all his life. His father represented the King of Sweden in that county for the contraction of Sweden in that county for the contraction. King of Sweden in that country for seventeen years .... The Italian papers announced the death of Signor Rubinis the greatest of tenors, at Rumano, in the province of

Be game, aged sixty years.

25.—Lord Gilbert Grosvenor, tenth son of the Marquis of Westminster, dropped dead, on board H. B. M. saip Boscawen, aged 21 years. . . . The celebrated Apache chief, Lobes, was killed in battle with United States troops at Santa Fe. 27.—The Duke of Parma, at Turin, from the effects of 27.—The Duke of Parma, at Turin, from the effects of an assassin's stab given him the evening previous. This prince was born on the 24th of January, 1823; succeived his father, luke Charles II., by virtue of the act of abdication by the latter, duted the 14th of March, 1849, and formally assumed the reins of government, by proclamation, on the 27th of August of the same year. His late Royal Highness Ferdinand Charles (III.) Joseph Marin Vittorio Balthasar de Bourbon, Infante of Spath, Duke of Parma, Piacenza, and the annexed states, was married, on the 10th of November, 1845, to the process Louise Marie Therèse de Bourbon, daughter Prince Ferdinand d'Artois, Duc de Buff four children—Marriet; born 1st Januare ditter.

Tours George Abraham Paul, Tith February, 1851. The ministry of twas dissolved, and Baron Ward received orders the country, and never to return the country. was dissolved, and Baron Ward received orders to quit the country, and never to return to it... Lord Doneraile, at his seat, Doneraile, Cork, Ireland.

28.—The Duke of Portland, at his seat, Welbeck Abbey, Nottinghamshire. The deceased nobleman, William Henry Cavendish Scott Bentinek, was born in 1788, and had consequently reached a patriarchial age. In 1795 he married the daughter and co-heiress of General Scott (whose name he assumed). The offspring of this marriage were, the Marquis of Titchfield, now Duke of Portland, the late Lord George Bentinek, Lord Henry Bentinck, M. P. for North Notts; Lady Charlotte Denison, and Lady Howard de Walden.

APRIL. MONDAY, 3 .- Professor Wilson, the well known "Chris topher North," aged 66 years. 4.—At Madras, (East Indies,) Lieut. General William Stavely, Commander-in-Chief of the Madras army. Lieut. Gen. Stavely joined the British army under the Duke of Wellington at Oporto in May, 1803, and was present at the battle of Talavera. Actions at Pombal, Redinah, Fox d'Arouce, and Sierra de Moita; battle of Feuentes d'Onor, storming and capture of Ciudad Rodrigo and d'Onor, storming and capture of Ciudad Rodrigo and Badajoz, Deputy Asst. Quartermaster General at the actions of Osma and Morrillas, battle of Vittoria, passage of the Bidassoa, storming of the Heights of Vera, action at Sarree, battle of the Nivelle, battles of the 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th December, 1813, near Bayonno, passage of the Adour, storming St. Etienne and investment of the citadeor, storming St. Etienne and investment of the citadeor Bayonne, actions at Vie Bigorre and Tarbes, and battle of Toulouse. Served also the campaign of 1815, including the battle of Waterloo and capture of Paris. He received the war medal with eight clasps, and a reward of £100 per annum for distinguished service through the Peninsular war and the campaign of 1815, including the battle of Waterloo and the capture of Paris. Was wounded severely on the last occasion.... George McCorkle, seaman of the U. S. ship Plymouth, was killed in an attack on Shanghae, (China.) made by the Americans and English.

9.—Mr. Holford, a millionaire American merchant, in London, where he had long resided....John Hancock, nephew of Governor Hancock, accidentally killed in Boston. (Mass.)

15.—At Shanghae (China), Captain R. H. Pearson, of the American ship Rote Standish, suddenly, of a wound received in an engagement on the 4th. The bullet, which proved to be a jingall ball, after breaking the bones of the jaw, had glanced downward through the muscless of the neck and throat and lodged par the chest. The ulceration finally caused the rupture of the cartid artery, and he died in a few minutes after this took place.

20.—Henry, Lord Cockburn, a Scotch Judge in Edia-Badajoz, Deputy Asst. Quartermaster General at the ac-took place. 26 —Henry, Lord Cockburn, a Scotch Judge in Edin-27.—Colonel Francis Saltus, one of the oldest mer-chants in New York. He commenced life as a shipping merchant, but he afterwards went into the business of manufacturing iron. When Moscow was burned by the Russians, Mr. Saltus lost one thousand boxes of sugar and an immense quantity of totacco, and his ships—the Nancy, Hudson, and Bolivar—were taken by the French on their way home, after successful younges, for which Nancy, Hudson, and Bolivar—were taken by the French on their way home, after successful voyages, for which he never received any indemnification.

28.—General Count Maffei, commander-in-chief of the National Guard of Turin. in that city.

29.—Early in the morning, William Henry, Marquis of Anglesca, in London, aged 80 years. He was one of the most illustrious of the remaining Waterloo chiefs of England, full of years and honors, leaving behind a name which will ever rank among the foremost in the annals of that country's most distinguished military officers.

30.—James Montgomery, the pret, near Sheffield, (Eng) aged 82 years. He was born in Ayrshire. His father was a Moravian missionary, who, leaving his son in Yorkshire, to be educated, went to the West Indies, where he and the poet's mother both died. When only 12 years old, the bent of the boy's mind was shown by the production of various small poems. These indications could not save him at first from the fate of the poor, and he was sent to eara his bread as assistant in a general shop. He thirsted for other occupations, and one day set off with 3s. 6d. in his pocket to walk to London, to seek fame and fortune. In his first effort he broke down, and for a while gave up his plan, to take service in another situation. Only for a time, however, was he content, and a second effort to reach the metropolis was successful, so far as bringing him to the spot he had longed for, but unsuccessful to his main hope—that of finding a publisher for a volume of his verses. He succeeded after many efforts.

MAY. WEDNESDAY, 3 .- Lord Colborne, in London, aged 75 years....Professor Jamieson, in Edinburgh, aged 80 years. In scientific circles his fame is bouncless.

4 .- Major General Nicholas Bravo, in the city of Mexico. He was a hero of the war of independence, and celebrated throughout his long military and civil career for his honesty and integrity—rare virtues in Mexican generals. He left the Presidential chair of that republic years ago, poor and deeply involved in personal debts. A more magnanimous enemy never lived. During the war of independence, when Bravo was in command of the army, his aged father was captured by command of the army, his aged father was captured by the Spaniards and inhumanly put to death by order of a Spanish general. When the sad occurrence was re-lated to Bravo, instead of retaliating or showing any dis-position to revenge the death of his parent, he released three hundred Spanish prisoners who had been taken by him a short time previous. It is a very singular circum-stance that on the same day, and but a few hours sub-sequent to the death of her husband, his wife died also.

sequent to the death of her husband, his wife died also.

6 — At Movebair, near Douai, France, a man aged 100 years, who left a widow 101 years old.

10.—William Fraser, at Sydney, Australia, aged 40 years. Mr. Fraser was formerly well known to literary circles in London baving, in connection with John Galt and others, originally projected the publication of Fraser's Magazine, which, however, took its name from Mr. James Fraser, the publisher. Mr. Fraser arrived in Sydney, from England, about fifteen months before his death.

death.

11.—Cardinal Lambruschini, Bishop of Porto San Rufino and Civita Vecchia, the oblest member but one of the Sacred College, and Secretary of the Pontifical Briefs, at Rome. He was born at Genoa on the 16th of May, 1776, and was Prime Min ster under Pope Gregory XVI.

Briefs, at Rome. He was born at Geno on the 16th of May, 1776, and was Prime Min ster under Pope Gregory XVI.

12.—Baron Huyssen de Kattendycke, Minister of State of the King of the Netherlands, in Paris, aged 72.

15.—Count Alrise Malvin, grand neplew of the last Doge of Venice, in that city... The Hishop of Bath and Wells, (Eng.) at Brighton... The Hishop of Bath and Wells, (Eng.) at Brighton... The farmous Captain Barclay, of Cry, Scotland, in his 76th year. He thought nothing of walking from Ury to Ellon (32 miles) to breakfast, and home again, within twelve homes, more than once he went eighty miles to the top of Hon, and returned without sleeping, in an almost incredible short period; and when he had a day's hunting before him at a distance of thirty or forty miles in 1,000 consentitive hour. The captain could lift half a too from the ground and set an eightest show man on the table, with one hand.

16.—About this date Mr. George Perkins, of Boston, U.S. was mardered in China. He left the bark Concept, from San Francisco, at the extrance of Rong Kong Instruct, in a Citizen sout for Macco. Not appearing at that later, concept was mane by the United States too.

18.—About this date Mr. George Perkins, of Boston, U.S. was mardered in China. He left the bark Concept, from San Francisco, at the extrance of Rong Kong Instruct, in a Citizen sout for Macco. Not appearing at that later, concept was mane by the United States too.

19.—About this date Mr. George Perkins, of Boston, U.S. was mardered in China he has been in concept to the Institute of plaque in 1816, and was the son of Toussoon Paska, and Consensative mounts of the Macco. Not appearing at the top of the meeting of the meeting cold that the lee had to be cut, and from that time he cold that the lee had to be cut, and from that time he gained health and strength.

24.—Miss Abigail Fillmore, daughter of ex-President Fillmore, at Auburn, N. Y., aged 22 years.

25.—Admiral Hyde Parker, senior Naval Lord of the Admiralty of England. This officer entered the Royal Naval Academy February 5, 1796, and embarked in September, 1799, as a volunter, on board the Cambrian, 40, employed at first in the Channel, and then in crusing among the Western Island. In November, 1801, he removed as midshipman to the Narcissus, 32, and while in that frigate, of which he was created an acting and confirmed lieutenant October 6, 1803, and September 24, 1804, he saw much active service. On July 11, in the latter year, in particular, he assisted with the boats of his own ship and of the Maidstone and Scahorse, ten in number, under the orders of Lieutenant John Thompson, and was highly spoken of for his conduct at the capture and destruction of twelve settees, lying at La Vandour, in the bay of Hyeres, after a conflict, in which the British encountered a tremendous fire of grapeshot and musketry, as well from the vessels themselves as from a battery and the houses of the town, sustaining a loss of four men killed, and twenty-three wounded. While in the Tenedos, he was engaged, in company with the Shannon, 38, Captain Phillip Bowes Vere Broke, in blockading, during the month of April, 1813, the port of Boston, in which lay the American frigates President and Congress; he afterwards, in April, 1814, united with the Junon, 38, Captain Cloworthy Upton, in chasing the Constitution frigate into Marbichead harbor, whither he was prevented from following her by a signal of recall from the Junon; and on January 18, 1819, he witnessed the surrender of the above named President to the British frigate Endymion; Captain Henry Pope. In the Ephigenia, after having conveyed the Duke of Richmond to Quebec, he proceeded to the West Indies, where the fever in a few weeks carried off eighty-four of his officers and men. On September 5, 1 tan hasha, General commanding for the Sultan hasha, during the siege. The gallant Osmanli was killed thus: He was on his knees at mid-day, reciting his prayers, and while in the act of bowing his head, a camon ball struck him between the shoulders. When, some years ago, the Prussian captain of artillery, with six non-commissioned officers, arrived at Constantinople to teach the Turks the science of gunnery, Mussa was a simple cannoneer, but he closed his career as Chief of the General Staff of the Artillery, and President of the Ordnance Department in the Council of War.

JUNE.
THURSDAY, I.—Emily Judson, "Fanny Forrester," in THURSDAY, I.—Emily Judson, "Fanny Forrester," in Madison county, N. Y., aged 40 years. The maiden name of this lady, so highly celebrated in religious and literary circles, was Emily Chubbuck. Her native place was Ea-ton, in Madison county, New York. She first became known to the public as a writer for periodicals, and under the assumed name of "Fanny Forrester," she acquired great reputation as a writer of refined taste, and a style of composition which was much admired as unique and attractive....M. Simonise, an eminent lawyer of Hayti at Port au Prince, aged 60 years.

2 —Captain Gifford, of the English steam frigate Tiger, captured by the Russians, died of his wounds at Odessa. 7.—C. C. Wright, an eminent medalist, in New York, aged 57 years...A. Vivian, ex-Minister of Justice and Public Works of France in 1848, in Paris. . Admiral Baudin, of the French navy, in Paris. The event was expected, and his promotion to the dignity of a full admiral was in fact intended as a solace to his dying moments. He was born on the 21st of July, 1784. His naval career was chiefly illustrated by two brilliant affairs in which he took a leading part many years ago, one in the Semillante and the other in the Renard. He was a member of the Com-the other in the Kenard. He was a member of the Committee of Longitudes.

8.—Mrs. Dennistoun, daughter of ex President Tyler, in Louisville (Kentucky)....General Sir Loftus Otway, C. B., of the English army, in London.

10.—Mr. Mangain, a leazing, French revolutionist of 1850, in Faris during the week....Reverend Doctor Greville, Dean of Windsor, England, aged 65 years.

11.—The reigning Princess Amelia of Scwarzburg-Rudolstadt, at Berlin, after a few days' illness, in her clist year; her Highness had no issue by her hu band, who survives.

12.—Genemeral C. Turner, of the British army, at Cheswick, England.

NIO SHITVING.

12.—Geneneral C. Turner, of the British army, at Cheswick, England.

15.—Cardinal Fornari, in Rome, aged 71 years....

The Princess Labanoff Rostoffsky, widow of the Russian Grand Marshal Count Narischen, in Heidelberg, Germany; she was nearly related to the imperial family of the Crar.

20.—Henomable Judge Barculo, of the Supreme Court of Kings county. N. Y.

22.—At Silistria, in Turkey, sged 27, of a wound he received whilst bravely and heroically defending that fortress, Captain James Armar Butler, of the Ceylon Rifle Regiment, Great Britain, fourth son of Lieutenant-General the Honorable H. E. Butler, of the British army.

26.—Senor Roca, Royal Treasurer of Cuba, and lately Collector of the Hack Warrior fine, at Havana.

29.—Madame Susanne Meszlenzi, sister of Louis Kossuth, in New York, aged 36 years.

MONDAY, 3.—Thomas Ritchie, long known throughout the United States as editor of the Richmond Enquirer, and for a few years as editor and proprietor of the Washington Union, in Washington city, after a linger-ing illness. Mr. Ritchie was about 76 years of age, having been born, we believe, in the year 1778. He was a native of the State of Virginia, and for more than fifty a native of the State of virginia, and for more than fifty years acted a prominent part in the politics of the State and nation. He devoted his early years to the instruction of youth, but having a taste for politics, and being devoted to the canae of the old republican party under the auspices of Mr. Jefferson, he established the Richmond Enquirer in 1804. The paper which was long many and the state of the Virginia politicians of the reasonable to exercise a controlling influence on the low as enabled to exercise a controlling influence on the low as enabled to exercise a controlling influence on the man enabled to exercise a controlling influence on the man enabled to exercise a controlling influence on the man enabled to exercise a controlling influence on the most effect that he died in the same nomin which he was born.

—Henry F. Tallmadge, late U.S. Marshad of New York, in New York, Mr. Tallmadge, of Litchfield, Connecticut, who was a major in the regiment of Light Dragoons, commanded by Col. Shellon, in the war of the Revolution, which was one of the most efficient regiments belonging to the American army in that war. Major Tallmadge had charge of Major Andre from the time of his capture until that of his death..., Count Woruncol Dashkan, Grand Master of Ceremonies at the Court of Russia, and a Privy Councillor of the Empire, of cholera, in St. Petersburg.

—Lommander R. S. Pinckney, U.S. N., at Charleston, S. C.

172h.—John Betery, (Petrovics Janos.) a native of Mayara-Veces, Hungary, in the Bellevue Hospital, New York, in the 25th year of his age. This deceased was a Lieuter ant in the 25th Howed bastallon, during the Hungarian struggle both his parents lost their lives at the hands of the minions of Austria. At the close of the war he was enrolled into nu Austrian penal company, from which he deverted. He handed on our shores in the month of May 1852, and Joined. With Prapay and other of his comparitois, the expedition against Cuba, under General Loyez. He was taken prisoner, and, with nine of his hea verable to the whig party, of which he was a supporter equally earnest, vigilant, and conspicuous. Mr. Blunt was not only an able and efficient officer, deeply interested in all matters affecting the public morals, studious to discover remedies for social evils, and prompt to apply every corrective in his power, so that very many intelligent citizens heartily approved of his re-election to the office, of District attorney, who were opposed to him in national politics... Mrs. Emma A. Mason, better known to the world at large as Emma Wheatley, at Oyster Bay. N. Y., in the thirty-second year of her age. She had been an invalid for some time, but until recently no serious apprehensions about her health had been entertained by her friends. Mrs. Mason was the daughter of Mrs. Wheatley, who was for hany years attached to the Park theatre, and in her peculiar line of characters, was at the head of her profession which her mother had illustrated by her talents and adorned by her virtues, and in a very short time, and before she could be said to have arrived at maturity, had placed herself in its foremost ranks. Justus her merit and her position became fully established, she married Mr. James Mason, the son of a wealthy citizen of New York, and retired from the stage.

18.—The Hon. George C. Washington, at Washington City. Col. Washington was one of the few remaining relatives of Gen. George Washington, some of the family having settled in Maryland, Weatern Virginia, and North Carolina. He was about fifty-five years of age, and resided at Rockville, the county seat of Montgomery, Md., about fifteen miles from the city of Washington. Brevet Major General and Paymaster General United States Army. ... Caroline Southey, with the was descended from the Cromwell family. He received an ordinary common school education... General Joseph Hillmann, of Pennsylvania, United States Army. ... Caroline Southey, and was highly graced with intellectual accomplishments. She was married to Dr. Southey in about a year and a half after the d

AUGUST.
THURSDAY, 3.—Thomas Blackman, Washington, grand-nephew of George Washington, at Harper's Ferry, Virginia, sged 40 years.

4.—Don Jose Barrundia, Minister Pelipotentiary of Honduras to United States, in New York, aged 70 years. 4.—Don Jose Barrundia, Minister Pelipotentiary of Honduras to United States, in New York, aged 70 years. In the death of this distinguished man the world sustained a great loss, and his country mourned a sincere patriot. From an early age he was devoted to the cause of liberty, and became so obnoxious to the Spanish authorities of Central America that a large reward was offered for his apprehension. After being secreted for five years, he emerged from his conceaiment, and headed his countrymen in their attempts to shake off the Spanish yoke. After the independence of his country was secured, he was elected President of the Confederation of the States of Central America, and devoted his energies to the advancement of his country ranslating and adopting many American laws, promoting education, and appropriating all his salary to establish schools.

6.—Mrs. Bailey, or as she was better known to the theatrical world as Miss Watson, suddenly, at Philadelphia. Miss Watson was a native of England, and at the time of her death was about 35 years of age. Her father was the manager of a theatre in London, and penhaps to this circumstance is owing the early predilection she exhibited for the stage. About eighteen years ago she visited this country for the first time, and commenced her career on the boards of the old Park theatre, where she appeared in the "Mountain Sylph," with the most flattering success. Miss Watson had an excellent contralto voice, and was possessed of a very pretty face, and graceful though petite figure.

7.—Major General H. R. Hartley, of the English army, ... Elizabeth Fish, a direct descendant of Peter Stuyvesant, and widow of the late Colonel Fish, in New York, aged 80 years.

8.—Joseph P. Breisford, an American tragedian of repute, at Coney Island.... The Princess Zenaide Charlotte Julle Bonaparte, at Naples. She was the eldest daughter of Joseph Bonaparte, King of Spain, and was born in Faris on July 8, 1862. She married her cousin, Prince Charles, the eldest son of Lucien Bonaparte, and lavaes the New York Volunteers, it was a specific to the American at Inspruce, aged 57 years.

11.—Chevalier Macedonia Melloni, the celebrated natural philosopher, at Portici, near Naples. M. Melloni was only 53 years of age. He was born at Parma, and he had been appointed in 1859 director of the Meteorological Observatory on the summit of Mount Vesuvius by the King of the Two Sicilies, to whom he had been recommended by Arago and Baron von Humboldt.

12.—Count Racusset de Boulbon was put to death, by shooting, in Mexico.

shooting, in Mexico.

19.—Prince Aci, General Murat, M. Longobardi Minister. and Chevalier Vanotti, Portuguese Consul, died at Genoa of cholera. The total deaths during the week amounted to three thousand.... General Paixhan, whose name is so well known in connection with the artillery, after a short illness, at his estate of Jouy-auxwhose name is so well known in connection with the artillery, after a short lilness, at his eatte of Jouy-aux-Arches, near Metz. at the age of 72.

20.—The celebrated Professor Schelling, at Ragaz, in Switzerland, aged 79 years.

22.—Sam Fatch's mother, at Pawtucket, R. I., aged 80 years... Sophie Soult, sister of Marshal Soult, at St. Amans-Soult, France, aged 51 years.

24.—Rev. Leonard Woods, D. D., one of the ablest divines of the nineteenth century, and one of the most respectable and influential leaders of public opinion in everything connected with religion and ecclesiasticism in New England for fifty years, at Andover, Mass., at the age of 80 years.

26.—General Thomas Dalmer, Colonel of the 47th Regiment, in Kent, England. He served at Waterloo, and was fifty years in the army.

29.—Major General Charles Stuars Campbell, C. B., a distinguished English officer.

30.—Colonel Edmund J. Elliott, of the 79th High landers, during the month, of cholers, near Varna, Turkey.

landers, during the month, of tables, during Turkey.

31.—Admiral Price, commanding the Allied ships in the Pacific, at Petropaulovski, was shot on board the flag ship President, by the discharge of a pistol in his own hand. Some said it was accidental and others premeditated... General Count Merlin, one of the surviving officers of the French expedition to Egypt after the first French revolution, at Montmorency, aged 76

FRIDAY, 1.—Colonel Crombie, of the English Cold-stream Guards, at Varna, Turkey. He was in the army

4.—Captain Parker, English marines, M. Bourassett, Frency navy, and M. Lefebre, Lieutenant of the ship Eurydice, killed by the Russians at Petropaulowski.

8.—M. Alois Bicrnacki, one of the oldest of the Polish refugees in Paris, at the age of 76. He was formerly Nuncio at the Polish Diet, and at one time Minister o Nuncio at the Polish Diet, and at one time Minister of Pinance.

11.—Mrs. Banton, wife of Hon. Colonel Benton, U. S. Senator, in Washington, D.C.

12.—Rev. Dr. Barron, a Roman Catholic Bishop, in Savarnah (Ga.), aged 53 years. He was brother of Sir H. Winston, Baron of Ireland.

10.—General Sir George Arthur, English army, in London... Eannel Nichols, editor of the SundayMercury, in New York, aged 54 years.

20.—Francis Xavier Gartland, Roman Catholic Bishop of Savanah, in Savanah. He was born in Dublin, Ireland, and was the first Roman Catholic Bishop of Savanah... Valentine Mott, Jr., M.D., son of the celebrated Docter Mott, of N. Y., in New Orleans, of yellow fover... Captains H. W. Cust, Slaw, Hon. W. Monck, Sir William Young, Major Rose, and Lieutenant Abercromble, with nineteen other British officers, were killed by the Russians, at Alma, in the Crimea.

21.—The Right Rev. Jonathan Wainwright, Provisional Episcopal Bishop of the Eastern diocsas of New York, in New York, aged 62 years. He was a venerated prelate and excellent man.

26.—Lord Denman, ex-Lord Chancellor of England, and one of the most popular men and emissent lawyers of that country, aged 76 years.

20.—Marshal St. Arnaud, Commander-in-Chief of the ailied armics in the Crimea, died there after a lingering illness.

20.—General Joseph Chopicki, well known during the Polish revolution, at Cracow.

OCTOBER.

SCNDAY 1-Anne Royall, in Washington, (D. C.) She was a remarkable woman twenty years ago, wielding a sarcastle, and often bitter pen, as a domestic tourist through the United States, and flourishing at a time when this sort of literature excited unusual attention because of the books of travel by Mrs. Trollope, Captain Basil Hall and others. Mrs. Royall was a native of Virginia, and cotemporary at Washington, during her sin-gular career of letters, with the administrations of John Quincy Adams, Jackson and Van Buren.

9-William Darby, an eminent American geographer, o Washington, (D. C., ) aged 80 years.... At Copenhagen, M. Gens Peter Muller, the partriarch of Danish painters and, during forty years, professor of landscape painting at the Academy of the Fine Arts. He was in his 75th at the Academy of the Fine Ales. He capter of General Loyer, was shown as billiard room in Havana.

17—Admiral Kormitch, of the Russian navy, killed at Febestopol. Samuel Drake, a veteran actor, of America, and grandfather of biles Julia Pean, in Kentucky, aged 57 years.

1.—Accepted Burt, of Nebraska, on his arrival in the Texture. 11 -- tevernor Eart, of Nebrasha, on his arrival in the Territory.

19 -- Colone i Riccat of the English army, great-grandson of Lord Hond, hilled in the transhes at Schastopol. Howas for 27 years in the Grenadier Guards.

rears.

23.—The following British officers had died bef Sebastopol:—Mr. Brown, clerk of the Britannia, attack ta the naval commissariat; Lieutenant Cavendah He of the London, of wounds received in the trench
Lieutenant Chase, of the Albion, killed in action;
Forster, midshipman of the Bellerophon, of wounds

31.—The Queen mother of Bavaria, and Prince Vincent, son of the King of Naples, died during the month

NOVEMBER. army, at Tallahassee, Florida. He was the brother of the distinguished General W. P. Duval, and, like him, was intimately connected with the early American set-tiement of the Territory. He was a captain in the last Rritish war, and served with distinction on the Canada frontier. In respect to his memory both houses of the Legislature adjourned.

4.—During the week, Madame De Lux, a very eccent

French lady, in New York, aged 65 years.

5.—Major Wood, of the United States army, in Indianola, Texas.....Generals Sir George Cathcart, Strangways, and Goldie, of the English army, with thirty-five other

5.—Major Wood, of the United States army, in Indianola, Texas.....Generals Sir George Cathcart, Strangways, and Goldie, of the English army, with thirty-five other officers, killed by the Russians in the battle of Inkermann, in the Crimea. Major George Bonn, chief of the staff of the British army, who was killed in this engagement, was one of the officers severely wounded at the lattle of Bladensburg in 1814. He remained several weeks in Washington and in Georgetown, during which he received many kind attentions from the citizons. He was a Scotchman by birth.

8.—In the county Meath, Ireland, aged 90 years, Christepher Keappock, one of the last members of the Irish Volunteers.

9.—Mrs. Elizabeth Hamilton, widow of the distinguished American general, Alexander Hamilton, in New York, gged 97 years....Stephen Scabury, aged cighty-three years, one month and seventeen days. He was the only urriving son of David Seabury, who was killed at the massacre of Fort Griswold, in Connecticut.

11.—Charles Kemble, the eminent tragedian, in Lendon, aged 79 years.... General George Hunter, a distinguished Indian officer of the Eritish army, at Allen Bridge (England,) aged 69 years.

17.—Samuel Dana, an old merchant of Boston, in that city.... Lord Dudley Stuart, a philanthropic Englishman, and a consistent supporter of the cause of Polaad, at Stockholm.

18 (about.)—Gen. Egerton, C.B., of the English army, in England. He entered the service as ensign, in the 28th Regiment, on the 1st December, 1798, and after having served some time in America, he proceeded, as captain of the 34th Regiment, to the Peninsula, in 1809. He served at the battle of Busaco, and in the retreat to and during the subsequent occupation of the lines of Torres Vedras. Was present at the steller of Miller 1812, en, whose personal staff he remained until the termination of the war, and was present at the battles of Vittoria, the Fyrence, (for which he obtained the brevet rank of major). Nivelle, Nives, Orthes, and Toulouse.

20.—Levi Handford, one of the pri

SUNDAY, 10.—Anne Bayard, widow of James A. Bay-ard, of Delaware, United States, in Philadelphia, aged 77 years. Few ladies have ever lived or died in the United States more honorably connected with its political his-tery. Her father, Richard Bassett, was the first United States Senator elected by the State of Delaware. He hel i his seat from the year 1789 to 1793. Her husband, James his seat from the year 1789 to 1793. Her husband, James A. Eayard, was elected to represent the State of Delaware in the lower house of Congress from 1797 to 1893 in 1801 he was appointed Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States at the Court of France; in 1804 he was elected United States Senator from Delaware. He was re-elected in 1810; in 1813 President Madison appointe him, in connection with John Quincy Adams and Alber Gallatin, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipoten tiary to negotiste a treaty of peace with Great Britain, under the mediation of the Emperor of Russia. Henry Clay and Jonathan Russell were atterwards added to the commission, and together they negotiated the treaty of Ghent, 1814. In 1816 Mr. Bayard was appointed Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the Court Grent, 1814. In 1815 Mr. Bayard was appointed Envoy Extraordinary and Ministor Pienipotentiary to the Court of Russia. He died the same year, in the 48th year of his age, leaving Mrs. Bayard a widow for nearly thirty years. Richard Bayard, one of her sons, has been twice elected to represent the State of Delaware in the United States government, as Charge at Belgium, under the administration of President Fillmore; and finally, James A. Bayard, another son, representa the same seat in the United States Senate herstofore occupied so creditably and so long by his grandfather, his father, and his brother.

15.—George Tophfothy, a Hungarian nobleman, who took an active part in the stirring events which occurred under Konsuth, shot himself in Cincinnati. His reverses of fortune and want of means for a comfortable subsistence had driven him to despair.

17.—Judge Gzant, of Oswego, New York, aged 84 years.

21.—Thomas William Tector, a prominent subsistence had driven him to despair.

17.—Judge Grant, of Oawego, New York, aged 84 years.

21.—Thomas William Tecker, a prominent member of the New York bar, in New York, aged 45 years.

27.—Thomas William Tork, aged 45 years.

27.—Thomas William Dorr, generally called Governor Dorr, died in Providence, R. I. Goveror Dorr was the leader of the revolutionary party in Rhode Island in 1841, which sought to establish the principle of free suffrage in opposition to the property qualification, and was elected Governor of the State, by the vote of the people; but he was not recognized by the authorities under the charler, and hence a revolutiouary movement, with a resort to arms, took place, which was subsequently quelled, and Governor Dorr, having surrendered himself, was sentenced to imprisonment for hie. He was afterwards pardoned; and in 1847 he was restored to the rights of citizenship by the Legislature of the State, and his sentence was expunged from the records of the court.

28.—Ex-Governor Morehead, of Kentucky, died at his residence in Covington, in the 58th year of his age.

31.—The following general officers of Russia were killed, or mortally wounded, either in Turkey or the Crimes, since the campaign on the Danube. Many of those named as wounded have since died.—

Prince Paskiewitch, wounded at Silistria, and invalided.

Lieut. General Schilder, died of wounds at Silistria.

At Lieut. General Schilder, died of wounds at Silistria.
Lieut. General Selwan, killed at Silistria.
Lieut. General Dreschern, died at Jasay.
Lieut. General Chrufeff II., wounded at Giurgevo.
Lieut. General Solmonoff, wounded at Giurgevo; killed

Lieut. General Solmonoff, wounded at Glurgevo, killed Nov. 5.
Lieut. General Luders. wounded at Glurgevo, killed Nov. 5.
Lieut. General Luders. wounded at Silistria.
Admiral Nachimoff, killed at Sebastopol.
Lieut. General Kaigenski, wounded at Alma.
Major General Pehtschelkanoff, wounded at Alma.
Major General Genoff, wounded at Alma, prisoner.
Major General Rurtjanoff, wounded at Alma, prisoner.
Major General Stabpakoff, killed at Silistria.
Major General Stabpakoff, killed at Silistria.
Major General Ouloiski (or Dubinski), died of rounds.
Major General Ouloiski (or Dubinski), died of rounds.

ounds.

Major General Babutoff, wounded on the Danube.

Major General Buturlin, wounded on the Danube.

Major General Orloff Denizoff (Hetman), wounded ie Danube. Major General Chaletski, wounded at Baisklava. Major General Villebois, wansded on the Major General Ochterione wounded on the Nev. Major General Rischinsky, wounded on the 5th of Major General Prince Monschikoff, wounded on the 5th of Nov. (not the general-in-chief.)

Here is a list of twenty-five generals and admirals who have been put hors de combut, and grounds exist for believing that four or five others have been omitted in the divers reports furnished to the journals of 8t. Petersburg.

LIFE SAVING STATIONS ON THE COAST.—Governor Price, of New Jersey, has received and authorized the publication of the following letter:

NEW YORK, Dec. 23, 1854.

DEAR SIR—The bill for the better protection of life from shipwreak, authorizing additional life saving atsilona on the coasts of long Island and the State of New Jersey, has been signed by the Prostate. This will increase the life saving stations on the coast of New Jersey to tweaty-eight, with a General Superintendent at a salary of $1,500, and twenty-eight Superintendents, with salaries of $200 cach.

To the exertions of Hon. Charles Skelton, of To the exertions of Hon. Charles Sketton, of Testen, one of the representatives in Congress from New Jersey, your State 1s indebted for an ap-propriation of $10,000 for your coast, and for the early passage of this bill by the flows, of which as is a near bet, making provisions for a life saving station for every five m less of your coast.

Masonic Opposes in Onio.—The following is a list of the officers stope of the Council of Royal and Scient Masters, for 1864-56: J. M. Parks, T. I. G. M.; John Beans, D. I. G. M.; J. K. Finn, P. C. Work; T. K. Keckeler, O. of the Gaud; I. O. Oppoleo, Transcrer; J. K. Smith, Recorder; J. R. Cover, Scotling.